AMERICANS ARE DISLOYAL IN JAPAN

Are Accused of Fostering Disloyalty Among the People.

By the Associated Press

TOKIO, Aug. 10.—Assertion that Americans are fostering disloyalty among the people of Japan and that American missionaries in Korea are using the cloak of Christianity to install anti-Japan sentiment there, are made in a series of articles appearing daily in the newspaper Kohunin Shinbun. This journal is considered the organ of military groups and its proprietor and editor is one of the leading journalists of Japan.

"America is declared to be using Japanese educators, thinkers and business men as tools to spread dangerous thoughts, destroy military discipline in Japanese youth to avoid conscription in the army."

The paper says "America is puffed up since the war, and considers herself the sole arbitrator of the world. Plans for a larger United States navy are regarded by the writer of the article as 'completely removing America's false mask of justice and humanity, and exposing her claws of militarism.'"

"America is seizing every opportunity to protest against Japanese actions and is influencing China against this country," it is alleged.

BANDITS ENTER JEWELRY STORE; SECURE $30,000.00

By the Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Ohio, August 10.—Bandits early today entered Sol Bergman's jewelry store in East Ninth street, in the heart of the downtown section, shot and seriously wounded two employees, looted the safe of jewelry and diamonds valued at $30,000.00 and escaped in an automobile.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE TOWN OF CICHANOW YESTERDAY

By the Associated Press

PARIS, Aug. 10.—The Russians have captured the town of Cichanow, thus cutting the Warsaw Danzig railroad, according to reports from French military missions at Warsaw, received by the foreign office today.

RUSSIA MAY DECLARE WAR AGAINST ENGLAND

By the Associated Press

MOSCOW, Aug. 10.—Russia is considering with determination the possibility of war with England over the situation which has arisen since the Bolsheviks have begun their offensive against Warsaw.

HUMORING OURSELVES

It may be that you are not accustomed to believing that you are guilty of humoring yourself, yet what great numbers of you are guilty of that very thing. With eating, we make ourselves believe that we must have just such and such delicacy to tickle our palates with. In attiring ourselves, we get the idea that we must dress just so and so to the minutest detail. Likewise, in countless other ways we so accustom ourselves to certain conditions that we firmly believe we cannot get along without them. Furthermore, when we do not have them we are very much agitated and upset.

That the abnormal state of providing ourselves with too many delicacies and niceties is not one of which to boast is well brought out by Emerson when he stated that "a great man scarcely knows how he dresses or how he dresses." Also, the great Franklin, you remember, made it a rule to always eat what was set before him, and as to dressing, we know that he was far from extravagant.

Now, no one with average intelligence would criticize any of us for eating good food, wearing good clothes and providing ourselves with wholesome living conditions, but the trouble is that we are inclined to the extremes along this line. Look at the knock-knocks we daily spread before ourselves, see the men robed in flimsy garments of silk and observe the limitless extremes to which the fair sex goes. Well might we pattern ourselves a little more after the old philosophers who have gone before.

How Cox Stands

LEAGUE OF NATIONS—Declares league supreme issue of century and favors immediate ratification of the peace treaty with any reservations that do not impair its "vital principle." Calls Monroe Doctrine the "very essence" of Article X. Declares United States could never enter war under the league without sanction of congress.

PROHIBITION—Makes no specific mention of "wet and dry" issue but declares any public official who fails to enforce law "is an enemy to both the constitution and the American principle of majority rule."

SOLDIER BONUS—Pledges party to rehabilitation of disabled service men and declares "considerable compensation is due those who lost much by the break in their material aspirations."

WOMAN SUFFRAGE—Expresses "same hope as our platform" that amendment will be promptly ratified.

PROFITING—Calls profiteering the most sinister influence in America and promises to find means to make profiteers suffer penalty of criminal law.

TAXATION—Promises reduction of $2,000,000,000 yearly in national taxes, with special attention to lightening burdens of small earners. Favors repeal of excess profits tax and substitution of small tax on all going business concerns. Advocates federal budget system.

INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES—Believes collective bargaining will be helpful to general interest. Demands definite statement of rights of employers and employees in collective action.

TRANSPORTATION—Favors fair trial for railroads under private ownership. Advocates development of Great Lakes navigation project.

WOODROW WILSON—Declares republican discourtesy to Woodrow Wilson a political intrigue and says history will make it odious.

CAMPAIGN EXPENDITURES—Demands both parties tell plain truth as to campaign expenditures and disbursements.

FARMERS—Favors increased home owning, community markets, cold storage control, co-operative purchasing and selling and appointment of "dirt farmers" to federal positions.

PARTY GOVERNMENT—Says parties have useful place but denounces any "government by party" which weakens solemn sense of personal responsibility.

DEMOCRAT VOTERS HOLD PRIMARY

Arkansas Senatorial Race
Similar to One Made In Oklahoma.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., August 10.—Democrat voters in Arkansas, in a state primary balloted on candidates for the nomination of United States Senator, governor, congress and minor state officials. The principal struggle in the selection of party standard bearers centered in the contest between Congressman C. H. Carraway and Senator William F. Kirby, candidate for renomination.

There were contests in four of the seven congressional districts. The ballot was one of the longest in the history of a state primary election. State issues have taken a prominent place in the gubernatorial race.

The Senatorial race was a very similar to the one in Oklahoma. Senator Kirby, it has been charged, opposed the administration during the early stages of the war. His war record, however, has been endorsed by Secretary of War Baker. Both candidates favor the league of nations.

NORTH CAROLINA LEGISLATURE IN EXTRAORDINARY SESSION

By the Associated Press
RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 10.—The North Carolina legislature met today in extraordinary session to consider ratification of the Federal Suffrage amendment and local tax matters. Ratification was not mentioned in the message from Governor Bickby, read at the opening session, but the Governor has announced that he will submit the amendment Thursday, with special message recommending its approval.

PREMIER GEORGE WANTS PEACE AT ALL TIMES

By the Associated Press
LONDON, Aug. 10.—"I am still hopeful of peace," were the opening words of Premier Lloyd George's announcement in the house of commons today, with regard to the Russo-Polish crisis.

The house was crowded and the tension was high in anticipation of the premier's "peace or war" statement. As he entered he was warmly cheered.

The United States, Great Britain and Germany produce 80 per cent of the world's iron and steel.

PIPE LINES ARE COMMON CARRIERS NOW

By the Associated Press
NEW ORLEANS, August 9.—Oil pipe lines in Louisiana today became common carriers under provisions of a law enacted by the recent general assembly. The lines now come under the supervision and regulation of the state railroad commission.

The bill as passed concluded a fight of long standing between the Standard Oil Company of Louisiana and the independent oil producers of North Louisiana. The independents claimed that the nature of the business conducted by the Standard proved the corporations lines to be common carriers, while the Standard contended its lines were private property.

The term "common carriers" as defined in the law includes persons, firms or corporations engaged in the transportation of crude petroleum for hire of which may be legally held to be such from the nature of their business. It is provided that there shall be no discrimination against the owners or shippers of oil.

ENGLAND DOES NOT WANT WAR WITH POLES

LONDON, August 10.—Great Britain has been given a few very anxious days, as a result of the Polish situation. Nobody in this country wants to embark in another war.

Nor has England and soldiers to send, but the whole community is tired of war and over burdened with taxation.

Results of the Hythe conference are considered as a compromise between the British and French, as all the decisions reached at previous conferences have been.

Oil Companies Are Spending Good Dollars In Effort To Develop This Field

Columbus caused the queen of Spain to pawn her jewels in order to equip a sailing vessel to go wild-cattling for land in other spheres — he discovered America; America has been a wildcatter country ever since, and thanks to the wildcatter, America is what she is today. All over the world men are wildcattling for this and that — and of special interest in the state of Oklahoma at the present time is the oil wildcatter.

All over the world men are searching for crude oil; the quest goes on with a fierceness that is a feature of no other business, and in this mighty world-wide quest, scientists came to Oklahoma, made elaborate surveys and found that the new state was, they thought, the greatest undeveloped oil field in the world. The wild-catter followed the geologist. They followed not only the recent report of geologists but rather the culmination of reports of men of the rocks who have known for years that oil has been found in shallow pockets, in many wells, and that there have been outcroppings and seeps from time to time.

Oil companies with millions back of them came into Oklahoma and acquired vast tracts of lands. They took a chance and won. The "pay grease" was found. Oil was found in northern Oklahoma in the year of 1890, but the first commercial wells were drilled near Bartlesville in 1903, and the Glen oil pool near Sapulpa was in 1906, and 110 wells were drilled that year. Ever since that time the wildcaters have plunged and plugged the state. Today they have centered their drive to Pontotoc county and with Ada, the Double A City as their headquarters. This field is not exactly a wildcat proposition. The oil and gas is here — we have the wells that are producing every day.

All over the state the explorer is at work, and in the language of the oil man he is known as the "wildcatter." The title is one of great honor. It stamps the operator as a man of courage, of tenacity, of tremendous human force. If there were no wildcaters there would be no oil fields. Thanks to the marvelous energy and dauntless courage of the wildcatter, new fields are in the making; the Pontotoc county field is being placed in the proven class of oildom.

There is a vast difference between "wildcatter" and "fakir." The investor should bear in mind the proper distinction. "Wildcattling" in oil parlance means drilling operations carried on in unproven territory. The company engaged in this work may be strictly legitimate in every sense of the word and should, under no circumstances, be confused with "fake" companies. The investor in the stock of the company engaged in the "wildcat" should understand that he is taking more chances to lose than to win, but that his profits may be proportionately larger if the "wildcat" company is successful. And he should be prepared to accept disappointment if his company does not succeed.

The new pools are usually discovered by the wildcaters. R. P. Ford, prominent oil man of this section, says:

"In the last analysis the entire production of petroleum oil is dependent upon wildcattling. The wells and the fields we now have will sooner or later be exhausted, and the ever increasing need for petroleum and its products must be supplied by the discovery of new pools."

One thing that should be understood in a wildcat oil territory is that oil is not found over night; the wild-catter has many things to overcome that he does not have in a proven field. In a field where a structure has been punctured successfully, the driller has the log, he knows what he must

OHIO HOLDS AN ELECTION TODAY

People to Choose Nominees for National and State Offices.

By the Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 10.—Ohio, this year's chief source of presidential nominees, goes to the polls tomorrow to choose from among its sons, candidates for senatorial, congressional and state office. Among the men the voters will pass upon in this primary are former Gov. Frank B. Willis, who placed Senator Harding in nomination at the Republican national convention, and Walter F. Brown, of Toledo, a leader in the old Progressive party, both candidates for United States Senator and former Senator Theodore F. Burton, a candidate for Congress from Cleveland, all running in the Republican primaries.

Interest is confined chiefly to the Republican ticket where there are a number of spirited contests. There are few contests of the Democratic ticket.

The leading contests on the Republican ticket are for United States Senator and governor. For the senatorial nomination there are five candidates, Walter F. Brown, former Governor Willis, Justice R. M. Wana-maker of the state supreme court, Macy Walcutt of Columbus, and J. P. Walser of Elyria. In this quintet of candidates, the contest is considered by political leaders to be between Willis, Brown and Wana-maker.

Willis is said to have a strong following in the rural section where he always has shown much strength in his three gubernatorial contests with Governor Cox, the Democratic presidential nominee. Brown, a former Progressive leader, is making his first appearance as a candidate for office. He has been endorsed by a number of the controlling county committees and is expected to show much strength in the suburban centers. Justice Wana-maker in previous contests, has shown much strength in labor centers as well as in rural sections.

In the Democratic senatorial contest, the two entrants are W. A. Julian, a Cincinnati business man, and F. O'Neill, a judge of the Akron municipal court and overseas veteran. Julian has received the endorsement of practically all the county organizations. A. V. Donahy, of New Philadelphia, state auditor, is unopposed for Democratic nomination for Governor.

The Republican gubernatorial contest, however, is a spirited one with four candidates entered. They are Colonel Ralph D. Cole of Findlay, former Mayor Harry L. Davis, of Cleveland, Congressman Roscoe C. McCulloch of Canton, and David Wesley Wood of Ohio Soldiers and Sailors' Home at Sandusky. Colonel Cole, a former congressman, served with the 37th Ohio national guard division in France. He was a candidate for the senatorial nomination in 1916. Davis was three times elected mayor of Cleveland, resigning when he became a candidate for the nomination for governor. Wood, a Civil War veteran, is an inmate of the soldiers' home at Sandusky. He never has been in a political contest before.

Because of the similarity of names of two of the candidates for the republican nomination for secretary of state this contest with three entrants is viewed with much interest. Harvey C. Smith, the incumbent, is opposed by Harry Clay Smith, a negro publisher of Cleveland, and Charles Q. Hildebrand of Wilmington, a former secretary. Originally, Harold C. Smith of Elyria, also was in the race, but he withdrew after a protest against his candidacy on the ground of collusion had been filed. A similar protest against Harry Clay Smith's candidacy was upheld by the present secretary, but the state supreme court reversed and ordered the negro publisher's name placed on the ballot.

All of the fourteen Republican congressmen are up for renomination and only two, John G. Cooper of Youngstown, and Henry I. Emerson of Cleveland, have opposition in the primary. Congressman Emerson is opposed by former Senator Theodore E. Burton. Mr. Burton did not seek renomination in 1916 being Ohio's candidate for the presidential nomination. For some years he has been associated with a New York bank and his re-entrance into Ohio politics is looked upon with much interest.

Of the eight Democrat congressmen, all are seeking re-nomination excepting Warren Card of Hamilton, and Clement L. Brumbaugh of Columbus. Both parties have a full list of candidates in each of the twenty two districts.

Lieutenant Governor Clarence J. Brown has two opponents for the republican nomination. They are Carl R. Kimball of Lake county, speaker of the house of representatives, and John R. Hurst of Cincinnati. On the Democratic ticket former Lieutenant Governor Earl D. Bloom and State Senator Howell Wright of Cleveland, are contending for the nomination for second place.

For the minor state offices, there is a field of candidates for most of the offices on both tickets with some spirited contests developed.

Besides the two service men already mentioned as candidates, there are three other service men contending for honors. Brigadier General Edward Vollrath of Bucyrus is contending with four other candidates for the republican nomination for chief justice of the state supreme court, and Colonel Benson W. Hough, who commanded the 166th infantry in the Rainbow Division overseas, is seeking the republican nomination for a short term as justice of the supreme court. On the Democratic ticket Charles B. Orwig, who lost a leg in the Argonne fighting, is unopposed for the nomination for state treasurer.

FREIGHT RATE AS A TINY FACTOR

Jett Lauck, Economist, Says
It Shouldn't Affect Prices.

WASHINGTON.—Any appreciable increase in the cost of living following the rise in railroad rates will be due to deliberate profiteering and not a legitimate consequence of the rate boost. W. Jett Lauck, economist representing railroad labor organizations, declared here today.

"The great industries of this country," said Lauck, "could well afford to deduct from the price of their freight rate increase."

"Including all of the transportation costs entering into wholesale meat prices, the maximum effect of the advance would be less than one cent a pound."

"On flour the increased cost at Philadelphia would be about 33 cents a barrel. On a suit of clothes made in the east and sold on the Pacific coast, he added, freight would be about nine cents."

On coal, Lauck said, there would be an increase of 5 cents to $1.25 at ton.

LLOYD GEORGE AND MILLERAND MEET

Conference Held to Discuss Plans for Saving Europe.

By the Associated Press
HYTHE, England, August 9.—How to save western Europe from Bolshevism, was the burden of the discussion at this morning's conference here between Premiers Lloyd George and Millerand, and although the final decision was still pending this afternoon, the chief weapons will probably be a blockade and the establishment of a defensive line in Poland.

It is stated that the allies, all though loath to admit it now feel there is little hope of saving Warsaw and that Poland no longer is the sole issue. The main problem confronting the Premiers is the defense of Western Europe.

Robbery Charge Against One Man Is Sustained

The preliminary trial of Scott Miller and Rube Douglass was held yesterday in Justice Brown's court. They were charged with robbing the pockets of J. M. Deaton while he lay asleep on a porch in Ada one night recently. A part of the money stolen was afterwards found on the person of Miller and identified by Deaton. At the hearing yesterday the court decided that there was sufficient evidence to hold Miller to the district court and he was placed under $500 bond. The case against Douglass was dismissed.

THREE ARROWSON SILVER DOLLAR

Legend Recalls Solemn Oath
Taken to Slay Tecumseh
in War of 1812.

TAHLEQUAH Okla., Aug. 9.—Fe wpeople, no doubt, have ever heard of the Indian legend as to why there are three arrows on a silver dollar, nor for that matter that there is such a legend. It was often mentioned at the time of the world's fair in St. Louis, Mo., 16 years ago, when a flag from the Quapaw nation was placed on exhibition in the Indian territory building. The flag attracted much attention.

The flag was the property of a man named Joseph McConse and it had descended to him from his great grandfather, Superneau McConse. The flag had been carried by the great war chief Tecumseh, commissioned a brigadier general by the British in the war of 1812. Tecumseh was slain at the bloody battle of the Thames, in Canada. Col. Richard M. Johnson of Kentucky claiming to have fired the shot that terminated the career of the chieftain. After Tecumseh's death the flag was taken from his body and carefully preserved.

Aided by Three Tribes
In the campaign against Tecumseh and his warriors there was allied with the forces of Gen. William Henry Harrison, the Peoria, Kaskaskias and Piankeshaws three once powerful nations which once ruled nearly all of Canada, New York and a portion of Pennsylvania, the small fragments of these tribes now live in the Quapaw nation in Oklahoma.

The night before the battle of the Thames a council of war was held. From each of the tribes represented a man volunteered to kill Chief Tecumseh the next day. Each warrior took a solemn oath to fulfill his duty. The battle followed and Tecumseh was really slain, but not by any one of the warriors. The followers of the great chieftain attempted to take his body down the river in the darkness of night, but were surprised by the three watchful and alert warriors who made a most desperate attempt to secure the body. They were unsuccessful, however, but did succeed in getting the flag which was wrapped about the dead leader's body. It was perforated with many bullet and arrow holes, and was given to Superneau McConse.

Dave Hybarger Is Nominated In Grady County Primary

D. C. Hybarger was nominated for county commissioner of Grady county in last week's primary, according to reports reaching Ada. He led the field by an handsome vote, receiving 859 votes out of 1904 cast for five candidates. He had a plurality of 509 votes over his closest competitor.

Dave Hybarger formerly lived in Pontotoc county and has a large number of friends here who are pleased to learn of his nomination. His friends in Grady county filed his name without his knowledge or consent and when he learned that he was a candidate he withdrew his name. His friends finally persuaded him to make the race, so he got back into the contest and won a decisive victory.

Allies to Aid Poland

By the Associated Press

HYTHE, England, Aug. 9.—The allied conference here reached a complete agreement today on plans dealing with the Russo-Polish crisis. They include the reimposition of the blockade and giving support, to Poland by technical advice, supplying munition, but no allied troops will be employed. The plans are subject to the approval of the British Parliament, which Premier Lloyd George will address tomorrow. The conference of the Premiers ended at 4 p. m.

WHAT SHALL IT PROFIT US?

What does it profit the farmer of Pontotoc County to produce twenty bales of cotton only to find that there is no buyer in sight and the cotton market is closed? What does it profit the Garfield County farmers to produce a mammoth crop of wheat only to find that there is no market for wheat and he cannot sell his product at any price?

What will it profit the United States to produce an unexampled quantity of raw material only to find that the markets of the world are closed and that no ships are available to transport the products to foreign ports?

The cotton grower may busy himself with producing his cotton bales and ignore a condition of outlawry that closes the county roads to traffic and destroys the market in which he must sell his product. The wheat grower may shrug his shoulders as the market place becomes a battle ground and the elevators are destroyed by fire.

The United States may draw itself within the shell of a magnificent isolation and boast of its indifference to world conditions while the market places of the world are converted into slaughter houses.

But when cotton begins to rot in the fields and wheat begins to rot in the elevators the cotton grower and the wheat grower begin to realize that they are after all interested in affairs beyond the boundaries of their farms.

When the products of America begin to pile up on the wharves of our seaports and nothing produced can find a market the United States will discover the vital connection between this nation and the other nations of the earth.

What shall it profit the United States to remain the greatest producing nation if the other nations remain so wasted by war that they cannot purchase American goods? Of what value are our cotton and wheat and steel if the nations of the world are bankrupt and unable to buy our goods?

When the market places of the world are closed by carnage the United States will realize the exact value of our magnificent isolation and will understand that conditions in Europe and Asia are vital concerns of ours. We are still in the truest sense our brother's keeper.

THINNING THEM OUT

Of the Democratic members of the state senate eight were candidates for renomination at the recent primary. Of the eight candidates, seven were defeated. The only one renominated had no opponent. Those defeated were Kerr of Muskogee, McIntosh, of Durant, Hogg of Shawnee, Knight of Wynnewood, Snyder of Oklahoma City, Carpenter of Bridgeport, and Wilson of Mangum. The only member who was successful in his fight for renomination was Johnson of Okmulgee. His opponent had quit the race a month before the primary, notwithstanding which he received a thousand votes at the primary.

Present indications are that the next senate will be decidedly short on working members. The retirement of Thomas, Kerr, McIntosh, Board and Tucker removes five of the most capable legislators Oklahoma ever had. There will not be a man in the next session who can fill Thomas's place as chairman of the big committee on appropriations as acceptably and ably as the man from Lawton has done. Notwithstanding some able men have been nominated—men like Morton Rutherford of Muskogee and McPherrin of Durant—the next senate is going to keenly feel the absence of several men who have been defeated or who voluntarily retired.

Last Friday morning while W. C. McAlester of the state election board was busy compiling the returns of the late primary he was called to the phone by a man with a grievance. The man aforesaid was indignant because a citizen of his part of the county had been defeated for the legislature. He wanted the state board to grant his county an additional member of the legislature and provide that the new member should come from the west end of the county. McAlester took the matter under advisement, but his decision has not yet been announced.

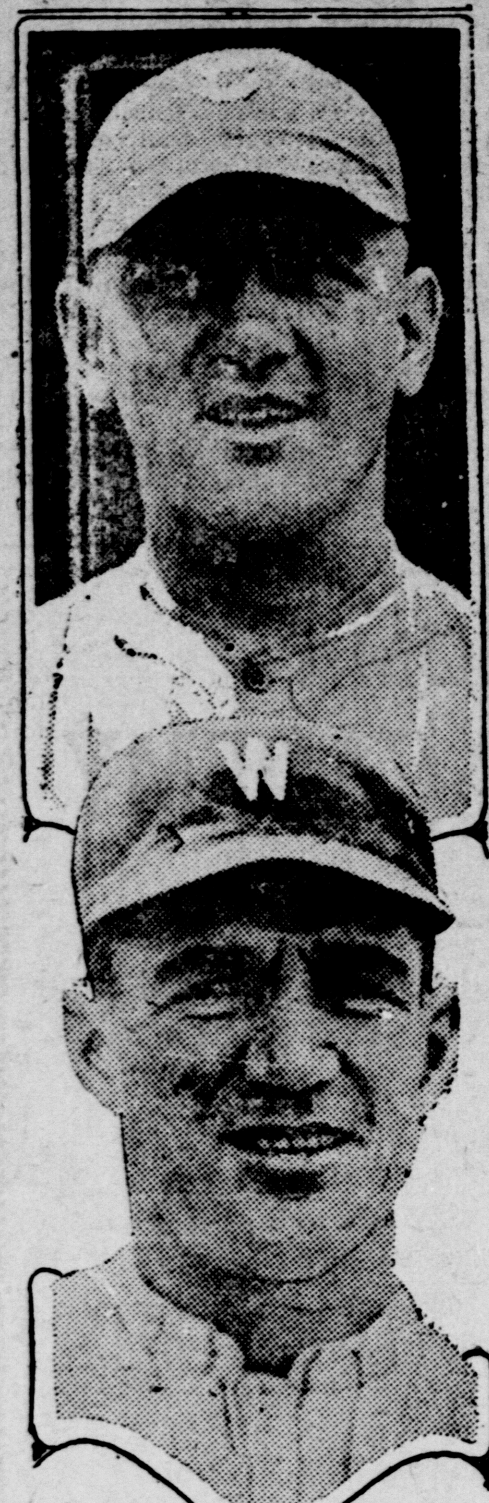

Comes now Manuel Herrick of Noble County and Republican nominee for congress in the eighth and declares himself the "devin instrument choosed by god to dillivur Oklahomy from the suthern hoards that have bin deevowerin her fur a deekaid." Hurrah for Herrick. A born disciple of Josh Billings he is also best fitted of all our citizens to represent the Republicans of Oklahoma.

Harding is still seated on his front porch but not very comfortably seated. His comments on Cox's speech of acceptance sound like the senator is worried about something.

Indications are that Texas will hold her next primary election before they finish counting the vote of the last one. Texas is certainly a big state.

Reports from the election in certain Oklahoma counties show that there is no shortage in the 1920 ivory crop.

BIG RAIN FALLS IN OKLAHOMA TODAY

By the Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 10.—Oklahoma received another general rainfall during the 24 hour period ending at 7 a. m., today, the weather bureau here announced. The precipitation was heaviest in the central and south central portions, with good rains in the northeast section, but light and widely scattered in the west and north west parts. The heaviest rainfall was reported from Holdenville, where the precipitation amounted to 2.50 inches. Ada received 2.10 inches of moisture.

The storm struck Oklahoma City last Monday and was accompanied by wind that blew many trees down in the city and broke windows in several of the downtown buildings.

J. W. Davis Has Departed From Pontotoc County

That large and silent void you have noticed about Ada and wondered at for the past several days is due to the departure from our midst of Pontotoc county's best citizen. J. W. Davis has sold most of his worldly substance and gathering a few personal effects in his roadster has shaken the dust of Oklahoma off his feet, maybe for keeps. He says so.

Mr. Davis has gone to Florida, where he will finish the summer and spend the winter. Early in the coming springtime he will cross the continent and seek a location in southern California—as near Tia Juana as convenient. There he contemplates spending the remainder of his days, if the call of Oklahoma does not prove stronger than any of his new found ties.

J. W. probably knew more people and was known by more people than any other citizen of the county. He was in this country when Captain Payne was organizing his first colony of Sooners to settle Oklahoma. He was among the posse that ran down and captured Cherokee Bill. He has ridden every cattle trail west of the Father of Waters and North of the Brazos. He knows the passes of the Rockies as well as he knew the streets of Ada.

No better hearted man ever walked the ways of Oklahoma than J. W. Davis. Everything he had belonged to his friends. He was generous, unique, irrepressible. We never heard of his preaching a funeral, but we are confident that if he should do so, all the mourners would have a highly enjoyable time. He was the best gloom killer ever turned loose on the public and has laughed away more imaginary ills than Pandora ever turned loose on the earth.

The people of Pontotoc county will miss J. W. He was more than a citizen—he was an institution. If he should decide to return to Ada, he would find a warmer welcome than California will give him. If he should locate permanently beyond the Sierras, he will be missed back here in Oklahoma as few of our citizens have ever been.

OIL COMPANIES ARE SPENDING DOLLARS

anticipate. In a field where a structure has been punctured successfully, the driller has the log, he knows what he must anticipate. In an unproven field it is different; he must feel his way. It is a long, hard, tedious and often an expensive and aggravating one.

Pontotoc county is carrying on an aggressive oil drilling campaign; thousands of dollars have been spent in this county for operations and thousands more in sight and the operations are under sane and capable hands. Yes, the wild-catter is here, he is spending his good, hard cash to find the secret pool, and every geologist which has surveyed the field says that when this field is proven it will be found to be the largest shallow well discoveries.

Ada, as well as other towns in this section, talk oil, think in terms of oil, and believe that "our world will be all rosy when our well comes in," for out here where the world is yet untouched by the mould of ancient midlewed commercialism, where the founts of nature have not been drained to dryness, we don't wish for our ship to come in. We wish, and are sure in wishing, for something more practical, some thing we know is going to happen, for our wells to come in, and with its coming gush dollars into our pockets and those about us.

Every day the puffing of the engines, the working of the rigs, the penetration of the dirills are bringing nearer and nearer to a realization of our wishes. The wild-catter here is spending his dollars; local capital could not develop this field—but local people will prosper when the bite gives out their verdict. Local dollars will gush into the swollen tide of bank deposits.

Pontotoc county is still in the "wild-cat" field, but the teeth are being removed from that animal in the Steedman country and it is now only a short time when that animal will be tamed.

George B. Kelly, an oil writer, writing for the Petroleum Age, says "it is a little out of the ordinary to see the big oil companies united in a general wild-cat campaign." Strictly wild-cat territory has long been the province of the promoter, or at least the independent operator, the large concerns confining their efforts to proven fields. But not so with this great virgin field. The big companies are here with their rigs penetrating the structure to find the force which drives the wheels of commerce; and have checker-boarded Pontotoc county and adjacent sections.

To the most skeptical, we invite you to look at this field, we admit its infancy, the producing wells are few, yet we are contending that within the next 60 days the tide will change and the curtain to the greatest shallow well field in Oklahoma will be shown to the world.

The contention of the Steedman field is based on the fact that Bob Ford, pioneer oil man, has two wells on the pumps now, and these two holes will make 60 barrels of oil per day. Production is here, the acreage is here, we want more money, new blood to develop the field. The field is open for your inspection.

COX TO BE ELECTED TWICE—NOT ONCE THE STARS TELL

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Governor Cox is going to be elected president—not once, but twice.

You could see it in the stars if you had half an eye—that is, half such a discerning eye as Dr. Frank Theodore Allen, director of the astrological research bureau in Washington. Dr. Allen is the leading forecaster of important events in the world. He not only makes predictions, but it tells why and how he makes them.

"Governor Cox will undoubtedly be elected president," he declares, in a communique just issued. "On or about October 27 we anticipate some serious incident connected with the election campaign. The year 1924 shows Governor Cox under the best aspects of his life, indicating election to a second term."

One swallow doesn't make a summer, Dr. Allen opines. But he does declare that since many of his predictions have come true, this one can be swallowed without the customary grain of salt.

In the magazine section of the New York World of August, 1913, Dr. Allen predicted that:

"Looks Dark For Rulers. 'Practically every monarch in Europe has a train of every threatening aspects operative during the next four years. (1) King George of England will be greatly distressed because of the approach of Saturn to his Sun. (2) Emperor William will be aroused to an unusually aggressive state of mind. (3) Even Queen Wilhelmina of Holland comes under certain distressing influences, and (4) Pope Pius may again suffer very trying conditions, continuing with intensifying force during the next two years, should he live that long. "The Mars-Saturn conjunction occurs at almost the exact opposition to the place of the Moon in the nativity of the Czar of Russia (5) and the perigee station of Mars will be almost exactly at the place of the Sun and the revolutionary Uranus. From this it is safe to predict that of all the distressed monarchs his lot will be the most unhappy in the next year or more."

Some Remarkable Readings.

The remarkable and noteworthy feature of this prediction is the fact that while five different notables of Europe were mentioned by name, in each case he quite clearly and definitely described the distinctive manner in which each was afterwards affected as a direct result of the war. Thus:

(1) England's king was distressed by the menace indicated by the serious and diplomatic Saturn, and in strict accord with the prudent nature of Saturn it was England that figured most conspicuously as the diplomatic agency for discretion, care and prudence.

(2) The German kaiser was most assuredly "aroused to an unusually aggressive state of mind."

(3) Queen Wilhelmina was distressed all through the war because of the embarrassing situation of Holland between the contending nations.

(4) Pope Pius died during the early weeks of the war; it being claimed that he died of a broken heart because of the blasting of his hopes and aspirations.

(5) And it is certain that the Russian czar's lot was emphatically "the most erratic and unhappy of all the distressed monarchs."

"In view of this who may presume to scoff at the science of astrology?" Dr. Allen demanded yesterday.

Search me. How do you do it doctor?" the correspondent asked.

"Astral prognostication," the doctor replied. "For example, the Mundane configurations pertaining to Polish territory and its government for the spring and summer of 1920 most clearly revealed an over-confident, jealous aggressive and beligerent spirit dominating the people and their rulers."

Why He Sees Russian Peace.

Over the whole of the Polish territory in particular, though quite strong over most all of Europe, especially the east and the western parts of Russia, the luminaries will be rising, with the radiant Sun in great power and dignity because of being in his own sign, and his potency reinforced because followed by the noble and majestic Jupiter, who in turn is immediately followed by the harmonizing and pacific Venus. "And it is as certain as anything in the future can be that attending or immediately following the New Moon of August 13 this year there will be evidenced a decidedly more genial considerate and tolerant spirit among the peoples of eastern Europe and of western Europe and of western Russia than has been known in months—if not years."

"Putting two and two together leads us to the conviction that the Russian menace will soon be a thing of the past."

"Oh, yes, by the way," Dr. Allen exclaimed, "at least the first 10 days of September will be under a series of menacing aspects that will almost certainly produce widespread stormy and disagreeable weather."

Election Contest In Third District Filed Yesterday

A petition was filed in district court yesterday afternoon asking that the county election board be restrained from a certificate of nomination to W. H. Brents, candidate for county commissioner in the third district. The petition was filed by J. D. Pace of Stonewall. He is represented by C. F. Green and R. C. Roland.

At last week's primary in the third district Brents received 608 votes to 524 were cast for Pace. The western part of the district went heavily for Brents while the eastern part of the district went just as heavily for Pace. In his petition the plaintiff attacks the legality of the election in the two Roff boxes and at Sunshine precinct.

In his petition plaintiff alleges that the election in East and West Roff was illegal in that voters were permitted to register on election day and to vote the same day. He also alleges that friends of Brents were permitted to remain in the polling places where they electioneered for Brents suggested to voters how they should vote, and looked over the shoulders of election officers. He alleges further that the election officers had bet on the result of the election. He claims that the election at Sunshine was illegal in that only two officers held the election.

The plaintiff states that in the three boxes in question Brents received 435 votes, but that if the rights of the plaintiff had been protected, Pace himself would have received the nomination. Wherefore he prays that the election board, consisting of W. B. House, Chas. T. Barney and Pearl Jones, be restrained from issuing a certificate of nomination to the said W. H. Brents until the merits of the contest shall have been heard by the district court.

In the absence of Judge Bolen, who is in Colorado, the matter was taken up by County Judge Busby yesterday afternoon and a temporary order issued restraining the election board from taking any action in the premises until the merits of the petition may be heard.

THEY'RE ONLY WOMEN EVER EMPLOYED IN WHITE HOUSE EXECUTIVE OFFICES

Miss Maude Rogers (left) and Miss Lillian O'Neill on the steps of the White House.

Miss Maude Rogers and Miss Lillian O'Neill enjoy the distinction of being the only women ever employed in the executive offices of the White House. At the beginning of the war they were employed to take the place of men who went into the army and their services have been so satisfactory that they have been continued in their positions.

With The Women of Today

Ohio seems to be getting about all of the honors which are being handed out, politically speaking. The presidential candidates of the two big parties and all three natives of Ohio, and now a woman native of Sandusky, Ohio, has added another laurel to that state's crown. She is Miss Marie Caroline Brehm, who has the distinction of being the first woman ever to act as permanent chairman of a national political convention. Miss Brehm presided over the Prohibition convention held recently at Lincoln, Nebraska, and in this capacity was pronounced an unqualified success.

Miss Brehm was particularly fitted for her position because of her long interest in the W. C. T. U. She has been a W. C. T. U. lecturer since 1891, and has lectured on temperance and suffrage all over the country. In 1909 she was the United States delegate to the 12th International Congress on Alcoholism held in London. In 1911 she was again a delegate, this time to the World's Congress on Alcoholism, The Hague, Holland. In September of 1913 Miss Brehm was appointed by President Wilson to act as United States delegate at the World's Anti-Alcohol Congress at Milan, Italy.

At the recent Prohibition Convention there was some talk for nominating Miss Brehm for president or vice president and thus giving her more honor, but it was finally decided to make her permanent chairman instead. Her home at present is in Long Beach, California.

Women in Business
According to statistics gathered unofficially by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs the southern woman leads in business initiative when she does enter commercial lines. Almost invariably the southern woman seeks to own and to operate her own business.

The modern business woman is inclined in every section to undertake an independent business interest rather than a salaried position. The southern woman, it is true, seems to lead in this, because she generally aims at once at conducting her own business, rather than graduating into it through a salaried position, as other women have done.

Business initiative among women will be one of the topics to be discussed at the second annual convention at St. Paul July 27 to 30. There will be present delegates who have succeeded in establishing their own business in many lines, and these delegates will tell just how and why they have done it.

Standards and cost of comfortable living will also be discussed in order to arrive at a proper standard for a minimum salary for both business and professional women. Business standards will be the keynote of the convention—the federation standing for the highest standard possible.

Presbyterian Christian Endeavor
Despite the fact that a large number of members of the society are out of town on their vacations, a large crowd was present Sunday evening to hear the reports from the Young People's Conference at Hollister, Missouri.

The conference was held on Presbyterian Hill which is located just across Lake Tanecomo from Hollister and about two and one half miles from Branson.

Regular classes were held in the mornings for training for Christian leadership. The recreation committee planned entertainments for the afternoons such as swimming, boating, hiking and various excursions.

A trip was made to the dam which forms the lake. The lake is twenty five miles long and affords good fishing. A trip was also made to the "Shepherd of the Hills" country. Dan Mathews home, Jim Lane's cabin and to Marvel cave, one of the largest caves in the world.

The first room of the cave is two hundred and fifty feet high, one hundred and seventy five feet wide and three hundred feet long. In this room is a stalactite seventy five feet high which is shaped like the Liberty Bell. In the cave are found "The Sentinel," a stalagmite of pure onyx. "The Nose of the Sphinx," "The Gulf of Doom," "Kewpie Lakes," "Lost River," "Harold Bell Wright's Studio" and many other interesting rooms.

The trip to these rooms can be made in a little over two hours. The owner, after exploring seven days had not reached the end of the cave but had encountered some very dangerous caverns, and had found another entrance to the cave. The lowest point that can be reached on the trip is four hundred and eighty three feet below the surface of the earth. The cave alone is worth the trip but the young people brought back splendid reports.

McSwain Theatre Presented Jen Gladstone's Show

Regardless of the fact that the rain was pouring down last night, the crowd at the McSwain was above the average.

The Jeanne Gladstone's "Merry Madcaps" opened the vaudeville programs of the new McSwain and from the most liberal applause given, they evidently scored favors. This company has visited in Ada several times and has the reputation of being a good show. They carry a band and orchestra which is composed chiefly of young ladies. Each individual is a splendid musician and a good performer on the stage.

Aside from the vaudeville program a large picture program was given, among the features was "Debtor To The Law," in which Henry Star, a notorious Oklahoma bank and train robber, played the leading part. This picture showed the cities of Ft. Loud and Pryor Creek, Okla. These towns were raided and robbed by Star and his band in 1915.

A good comedy and Ford Weekly News was shown, this making a total of eight reels of pictures and the all-feature vaudeville bill made this program one of the best presented to theater goers in this city. The promise of good bills during the week is backed by the fact that the Jeanne Gladstone company is composed of clever performers and the McSwain policy of showing good pictures is to be upheld.

Men Here From Many Miles Away to See About Ada Asphalt

F. J. McCracken of Worthington, Minnesota, D. H. Thomas of Des Moines, Iowa and F. D. Hawkins and son of Kansas City were here yesterday investigating everything about the rock asphalt found near this city. They examined the deposits at the quarries and the facilities for handling the asphalt. Also they examined the asphalt paving on the streets here and other places.

The men were representatives of the cities they came from. After thorough investigation and consultation with Bert Hahn, mine operator, they departed highly pleased with what they found.

Secretary Walker of the Chamber of Commerce states this makes 12 men who have recently investigated the same proposition. Evidently Ada rock asphalt is receiving some notice in other places. There is plenty of it here "on deposit" to pave a very large number of places. The prospective city paver has only to see it in use on many of the streets throughout this section to be convinced of its value as paving material.

At the Ada Playhouses

McSwain.

"Presenting Jen Gladstone's Merry Madcaps to the people of Ada is a pleasure," says Foster McSwain of the new playhouse. The performance last night was the best ever. The chorus was pretty and the scenery was fine. The program of tonight will be changed and those who want to see a splendid vaudeville show and hear a good band concert should visit the McSwain.

The picture for tonight is a Paramount Aircraft, starring Robert Warwick. The chairs in this theater will rest the most tiresome people. They just naturally make you "feel at home."

American

"The Home of Good Pictures" is presenting "The Veiled Marriage" with an all-star cast. It is an intense drama of real life. Mysterious but not confusing. Sensational but not unwholesome. Thrilling but not horrible. To sum the picture to a grand total it could be said that it is a dandy.

Harold Lloyd in one of those $100,000 two reel comedies "Captain Kid's Kids." You are invited to come and see it just for fun. An orchestra that plays picture music is one of the features that this theater boasts of.

The Niger and Benue rivers form the only navigable route to the far interior of Africa.

Ada Seed and Feed Company Changes Hands Yesterday

C. W. Zorn has sold the Ada Seed & Feed company to Mr. Payne of this city. Mr. Payne will take charge of the business immediately.

Zorn is interested in the new Alfalfa Milling company and has been elected manager. This position will take all of his time to promote the affairs of this corporation.

Mr. Payne needs no introduction to the people of this city, he having lived here for some time and has been connected with local business institutions. The business will be conducted at the same location on Broadway and will adhere strictly to the policy set out by Mr. Zorn. "A square Deal For Everyone."

As a matter of fairness be explicit in writing Wants—you'll come from applicants who will understand what is expected of them, and you'll find little or no difficulty in selecting a most satisfactory and capable employee.

News From the Hospital

Luckily for the citizens of the city, the hospital is running light at present.

Guy Orr, recently operated on for appendicitis, is well on the road to recovery.

Roger Harris is still in the hospital but is gradually improving. He is able to sit up a little bit.

The little son of Festus Snow of Centrahoma was successfully recovered to leave the hospital yesterday.

Mrs. B. F. McCurdy, also operated on for appendicitis, is planning to leave the hospital today after having received successful treatment.

Dave Loman, recently mashed between a traction engine and thrasher, is still doing nicely. It is almost certain now that he will get well without any permanent injuries.

STATE HAS MUCH WAR MATERIAL NOW

Oklahoma has received, through the department of agriculture, war equipment valued at $1,500,000 to be used in the state road building program. This statement is contained in a letter from Henry Wood, commissioner of highways, addressed to Dr. Clarence J. Owens, director general of the Southern Commercial Congress.

War material, suitable for road-building purposes, is being allotted to several states under a provision framed by Dr. Owens and introduced in the senate by the late Senator Bankhead of Alabama, as a rider to the postoffice appropriation bill of 1919. At the same time Dr. Owens presented the matter to each of the 48 state governors who gave hearty endorsement and with this concert of demand, the measure passed without opposition.

Letter Explains Benefit.
Mr. Wood, in his letter to Dr. Owens says:
"Oklahoma has received from the bureau of public roads of the agricultural department, war equipment conservatively valued at $15,500,000. This equipment has been obtained at a small percentage of its cash value, and has been distributed to the counties and subdivisions of the state to aid in road building.

"This has been a great thing for Oklahoma and will be the direct cause of much good being done in the betterment of our highways. We certainly appreciate the interest of your organization in this matter."

Only One Phase of Help.
The vital assistance given the good roads movement throughout the country by this distribution of hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of war materials is but one phase of a gigantic program of constructive statesmanship, carefully planned and steadily carried forward during the past 10 years by the Southern Commercial Congress under the direction of Dr. Owens.

The main theme of agricultural reorganization for the country was, at the beginning of the campaign, divided into four sub-divisions—finance, distribution, production and organization.

Farm Loan Act Helps.
Under the head of finance much of minor importance has been accomplished, but the great service to the agricultural interests of the country under this sub-division is the federal loan act, entire credit for which is given to the Southern Commercial Congress by the congress of the United States.

Under the sub-division, distribution, Dr. Owens directed an exhaustive survey of the trinity of transportation—railways, waterways and highways. Incident to this work he wrote an amendment to the postoffice appropriation bill of 1915 making provision for a fund to conduct experiments in the postoffice department in shipping farm produce from producer to consumer direct. A niggardly $10,000 was appropriated for the work, but it was sufficient to demonstrate a saving of more than 43 per cent to the consumer by the direct method of purchase and delivery by post. With in a year the business of handling this class of parcel post had grown to such proportions that it required practically the entire time of the office of fourth assistant postmaster general.

Going steadily forward in the handling of distribution problems Dr. Owens initiated the movement to allot suitable war material to the several states for use in highway work, and wrote section 7 of the 1919 postoffice appropriation bill, under which distribution is being made, and under which Oklahoma has received valuable and useful equipment.

TENT CITY HOUSES THOUSANDS OF KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS NOW HOLDING NATIONAL ENCAMPMENT AT CLEVELAND, OHIO

View of K. of P. camp at Cleveland, and its commander, Maj. Gen. W. H. Loomis.

Three thousand uniformed Knight of Pythias, representing every state in the union and comprising the "Army of the Lily," are holding their national encampment this week in Cleveland, Ohio. They have pitched their tents in Edgewater park, on the shores of Lake Erie, and are under the command of Maj. Gen. Loomis of Michigan. Thousands of other knights are in the city for the week to attend the big doings.

OLD LANDMARK GIVES WAY TO PROGRESSIVENESS

PHILADELPHIA, August 10.—The old Ferry House and Tavern at Washington Crossing, Pa., is being restored and adapted as a central building for park purposes.

All the properties on the Delaware river bank east of the river road as far as the upper end of the island, behind which boats were secreted, ready for the embarkation of George Washington's troops for the attack on Trenton, have been bought by the Washington Crossing Park Commission.

This covers a river frontage of over 1,500 feet and includes the point of embarkation and the old Ferry Road leading to it. The commission also has purchased the island and about 60 acres to the west of River Road which includes the ridge behind which the Continental troops were massed and drilled that eventful Christmas day before the battle of Trenton.

The commission has laid out a general scheme covering the territory in which Washington's troops were quartered after having been driven across New Jersey and over the Delaware river on December 8, at the uppermost ferry guarding to keep the British from crossing.

It covers the headquarters houses of Washington and 11 of his generals. At the graves of the soldiers who died it is proposed to erect monuments. Eventually the National government will be asked to build a memorial bridge over the Delaware at the point where Washington made his never-to-be-forgotten journey across the swollen Delaware amid ice loes and dangers from an unseen foe.

You Get The Money

The money that is spent to advertise the goods you buy, comes to you. Once many people had the idea that goods advertised must be more expensive than goods for which no money was spent in advertising.

That is about as sensible as saying it costs more to make goods by machinery than by hand, because you have to buy the machine.

Without advertising, you have to sell goods "by hand." Just as a machine will make ten times, or a hundred times, as many articles as can be made by hand; so advertising sells ten times, or a thousand times, as many articles as can be sold "by hand."

For instance: A merchant buys a stock of a certain line of goods. He spends a thousand dollars for these goods. Occasionally some one buys one of them, but most of his thousand dollars stays on the shelf. He must sell to make a profit, he must sell to be able to buy more goods, he must make the sales to stay in business.

So he divides his profit three ways, one-third for himself, one-third for Advertising and one-third in price reduction for you.

His advertising sells these goods in a few days. He has made one-third as much profit in six days as he would have made if he had not advertised. He has shared his profit with you in return for your giving him your business.

Both of you make money; both of you save money.

There's no use arguing, you know it pays to read advertisements.

A Free Course in Business and Domestic Economy

It is at your disposal every day. All that is required is careful reading of the advertising columns in this paper.

No matter how well you run your home, your farm, your business—it can be done better—more economically. The advertising columns teach efficiency—they show the cheapest and best markets.

They help you to make the house work lighter by listing the newest labor-saving devices. The farmer can get a line on the thousand and one things that go to improve soils and stock. The merchant or business man can pick up a useful suggestion every day.

No home and no business can progress without movement. The advertising columns help you to keep up with the band wagon.

Read the advertisements—you'll find it pays.

Three New Bricks To Be Erected by Shelton on E. Main

W. T. Shelton and sisters, heirs of the J. W. Shelton estate, are beginning work for the erection of three brick buildings on the south side of East Main between Rennie and Constant Avenues. The buildings are to join the Ben Starrett buildings.

Each of the new buildings will be 25 feet wide and 130 feet long. They will be one story high with foundations and walls to be built suitable for the additions of another story if desired in the future.

The buildings are planned for regular business houses. It is not known just now who will occupy them. It is hoped that they will be ready for use by the 1st of October.

When these are completed there will be left only three vacant lots on that side of the block. These remaining lots are owned by three different parties, Dr. H. D. Meredith, J. W. Bolen and W. J. Hughes. While no definite plans have been given out by either of these men, it is understood that in the near future some kind of modern structures will adorn the vacancy.

Don't suffer the misery of indigestion when you can get relief from Prickly Ash Bitters. It eases pain and drives out badly digested food. One dose does the work. Try it. Price $1.25 per bottle. Sold by Gwin & Mays. (adv)

FAIR'S EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT LARGER

OKLAHOMA CITY.—Increased premiums in the educational department of the Oklahoma State Fair and Exposition are expected to bring new and larger exhibits from all parts of the state, when the fair opens on September 25. Closing date of the fair this year is October 2.

Premiums are offered for the work of universities and colleges, normal schools, industrial schools, county schools, graded schools, high schools and negro schools.

STATE FAIR TO HAVE FIREWORKS

"Siege of Dardanelles" Is Thrilling Spectacle.

OKLAHOMA CITY.—The most thrilling fireworks spectacle ever presented in Oklahoma, is promised for patrons of the Oklahoma State Fair and Exposition at Oklahoma City from September 25 to October 2. The first presentation of the spectacle will be on the night of September 27 at 8 o'clock. It will be shown every night thereafter until the close of the fair.

The spectacle is called "The Siege of the Dardanelles." It is presented before the big concrete grandstand on a stage 475 feet long. As its name indicates, the spectacle will show the bombardment of the Turkish fortifications at the Straits of the Dardanelles, by the French and British navies during the World War.

Preceding the bombardment, however, will be a gigantic naval spectacle, in which reproductions of war vessels used in historic battles at the straits by the Greeks, Romans and Egyptians will be shown. After this will be seen modern warships—dreadnaughts, destroyers, cruisers, submarine chasers, trawlers, mine sweepers and submarines—in a great panorama as they pass before the fortifications.

Preceding the spectacle will be the double vaudeville program, just twice as large as any ever shown before at the fair. One admission ticket entitles the holder to all the features of the evening entertainment in the grandstand.

EMISE FROCK IS STILL FASHIONABLE

This smart frock, designed for afternoon wear, proves that the chemise type of dress is still fashionable despite rumors to the contrary. This is a particularly charming model made of navy satin with a navy georgette overdress heavily embroidered in beads. A narrow sash marks a waistline slightly below the normal, which is becoming to many figures and is often a pleasing variation.

Forty wears of constant use is the best proof of the effectiveness of White's Cream Vermifuge for expelling worms in children or adults. Price, 35c. Sold by Hensler & Story.

SOVIET TROOPS TO WARSAW

Sympathizers of Bolsheviki Expect City to Be Entered.

By the Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Entry into Warsaw of soviet troops this week is expected by bolshevik sympathizers in that city, says the London Times, quoting a correspondent, who declared that immediately after Warsaw is taken a soviet government will be established there. The correspondent declared the Moscow government purposes to make its own terms with a bolshevik Poland and says it is not believed the soviet premier could stop the offensive, even if he so desires, before the bolshevik armies enter the Polish capital, as the soviet have been promised the privilege of looting the city.

Purity and healing power are the chief characteristics of Liquid Borozone. It mends torn cut burned or scalded flesh with wonderful promptness. Price, 30c, 60c, and $1.20. Sold by Hensler & Story.

C. W. Dungey Begins Work on Building at 216 West Main Street

C. W. Dungey has begun the excavation work for the foundation of a concrete block building to be erected at 216 West Main street. The building will be 23 feet wide, 60 feet long and one story high. Mr. Dungey expects to complete the structure in about a month. The building will be rented by some business concern when it is completed.

This new building will add to looks of the north side of West Main. Many of the city can remember when there was a whole string of wooden buildings along there. Now there is only one more wooden building of any size on that block together with several lunch stands.

When you feel lazy, out of sorts and yawn a good deal in the day time, you need Herbine to stimulate your liver, tone up your stomach and purify your bowels. Price 60c. Sold by Hensler & Story.

A LEGAL BATTLE UNIQUE IN TEXAS

Galveston, Birth Place of Commission Form, to Combat Martial Law.

GALVESTON, Texas., August 10. Galveston, birthplace of the commission form of government, this morning became the scene of a legal battle unique in Texas annals when Frank S. Anderson, city attorney, acting on behalf of its deposed city commission, appeared before Judge Robert G. Street, of the Fifty-sixth district court, in the preliminary hearing of the city's suit to enjoin the enforcement of martial law.

The defendants, Governor W. P. Hobby, Brigadier General Jacob F. Wolters, and "every officer and private on duty in Galveston" were represented by a distinguished array of legal talent from the attorney-general's office in Austin.

The coastwise longshoremen's strike, out of which grew conditions leading up to the declaration of martial law, June 7, was called early in March. The strikers asked advances in wages, improvement of working conditions and to be placed on a parity with deep-sea longshoremen. After several attempts at negotiations, the walkout settled down to a test of strength.

The petition filed by the city on behalf of four city commissioners, A. P. Norman, J. C. Purcell,

J. H. Gernand and George E. Robertson, charges that the "acts and conduct of the defendants were in pursuance of an illegal and unlawful conspiracy, entered into between said defendants and certain other persons whose names are at present unknown to these plaintiffs to intimidate and coerce the citizenship of Galveston and bring about the institution of what is known as the 'open shop'."

Mayor H. O. Sappington, the fifth member of the board of city commissioners, was not a party to the suit.

General Wolter's first order upon occupation of the city, the petition says, prohibited the carrying of arms, the sale of ammunition or the congregating of citizens upon the streets. This order, along with various other orders emanating from military headquarters, the petition declares, "is wholly void and of no effect."

In denying Governor Hobby's statement regarding alleged "riots, insurrections and breaches of the peace," the petition says:

"The plaintiffs allege that no riots, insurrections or breaches of the peace occurred previous to the 'invasion of Galveston,' and therefore sending of troops here for purpose of protecting non-union dock-workers, was wholly unnecessary and an insult to the citizenship of this city."

Referring to the governor's executive order of July 15, which suspended the entire police and detective forces and the recorder of the corporation court, and partially suspended the mayor, city attorney and board of city commissioners, for alleged failure, refusal and neglect to enforce the laws of the city, the petition states "since no riot or insurrection occurred, none could be suspended or put down—and no one could be apprehended for participation there in."

Governor Hobby's charge that the city authorities "not only failed to render aid and assistance to Brigadier General Wolters, but by their acts and words aided and encouraged the lawless element of the city," is emphatically denied, the petition asserting that the city had endeavored in every way to co-operate with the military authorities.

Considerable interest was manifested today in the expected rejoinder by the attorney-general's office. That the port of Galveston, considered a public utility, was as much the property of the state at large as it was of those residing here, was expected to be one of the arguments advanced by the state.

WE MAY HAVE ANOTHER GREAT WORLD'S WAR

Russia and Poland are now fighting each other and the diplomats of the Allied nations are fearful that the world may be thrown into another bloody war. England and France see no peace in Europe as long as the present chaotic condition of Russia lasts. Ludendorff of Germany has sounded a note of warning to the effect that the Bolshevism of Russia may spread over the entire world unless checked at once. We should inform ourselves about the actual conditions in Russia so that we know what to expect of the future.

Count Tolstoy, famous Russian lecturer and writer, who was forced to flee from that trouble torn country a short time ago, will be in Ada on August 26th to lecture on the subject "The Truth About Russia." A tolstop speaks with authority on Russian questions. He will no doubt lecture to the biggest crowd that will attend the Chautauqua.

FRENCH RAILROAD MEN THREATEN TO CALL STRIKE

By the Associated Press

PARIS, Aug. 10.—Railroad employees throughout France will strike, it called upon to transport troops to Poland, according to a resolution adopted at a mass meeting here today.

Reports of a disagreement between French officers in Poland and the Polish general staff, has caused the French public to take an unfavorable view of the situation.

WOMEN DRIVERS TO GET PRIZES

Unique Motor Style Show At Oklahoma State Fair

OKLAHOMA CITY.—Girls, here's your chance to make a few masculine hearts do the shimmy, and incidentally to win a prize.

The Oklahoma State Fair and Exposition is to have a "Motor Style Show" this year. It will be unique in many respects, the principal one of which is that none but women are eligible.

The style show will be held at 1:30 o'clock on the afternoon of Thursday September 28, the sixth day of the show. It will consist of a parade of automobiles around the race track. All must be driven by women, but they may take as many guests of their own sex as their cars will hold.

Prizes will be awarded on the basis of grace in driving, beauty of attire, condition of the automobile, etc. Any make of car from the humble flivver to the lordly $10,000 creation can be entered, and prizes will be awarded in eight different classes, based entirely on the price of the car. Thus the driver of a $1,000 automobile has as much chance to win as she who pilots the $10,000 creation.

The judges, of course, will be mere men.

MILCH GOAT PRIZES

State Fair To Show That Animal Is "Decent Citizen."

OKLAHOMA CITY.—To prove that the goat is a decent, respectable citizen, the Oklahoma State Fair and Exposition is offering cash prizes to exhibitors of the Toggenberg, Nubian and Saanen breeds of milch animals, and for Angoras.

The goat as a source of milk supply is growing rapidly in favor in Oklahoma. For one thing, the goat will prosper on pasturage which will not support a cow. For another, goat's milk is far richer in fatty content than cow's milk, and is more easily digestible because the fat is not separable from the remainder of the milk.

Many doctors recommend goat's milk for invalids and children who are unable to assimilate dairy milk.

There are scores of herds of milch goats in Oklahoma now, and it is expected that interest in the animals created by the exhibit from September 25 to October 2 will increase their number.
